understanding and interpreting chord symbols are part of the basics of playing jazz music the piano is the ideal instrument to help you to get an overview of harmonic structures and as such is an important aid even for non pianists with this goal in mind the simple and clearly structured exercises in voicing concepts help the student learn to improvise good sounding voicings in typical as well as complex harmonic progressions of jazz standards and in various styles and grooves fundamentals about the harmonic and melodic structure of jazz are discovered in the process comping for an imaginary soloist as is done on the aebersold play a long recordings can be a tricky business it is easy for the comping to turn into a piano chord solo which is far too busy and cluttered up rhythmically or melodically the soloist is left with no space in which to play the goal is to supply the harmony and play something that feels good so that any soloist will be comfortable playing with the prerecorded rhythm accompaniment the problem is that the element of interaction is removed since there is no soloist playing as the track is recorded there is no possibility of reacting to rhythmic or harmonic elements that one might employ dan haerle's approach is to comp as though he were an arranger creating a sax or trombone background behind a solo in a jazz band chart a good background would generally have some melodic interest though restrained and would sound the harmony to support the solo also there would be enough rhythmic life in it to inject some energy into the music and hopefully stimulate the soloist dan haerle
