The acquisition of Chinese pinyin and hanzi focuses on the learning of pinyin and hanzi among learners of Chinese as a second language (CSL) from Egypt and the United Kingdom. The objectives of this book are to explore the roles of L1 writing system, background, individual differences and meta-linguistic awareness in the acquisition of pinyin and hanzi. This book presents a unique comparison of the performance in learning Chinese between two groups of CSL learners using L1 scripts with different writing directions, namely the right-to-left Arabic and the left-to-right English. It provides a comprehensive analysis of the orthographic and phonological features of Arabic, Chinese and English, illustrating how L1 background and individual differences such as foreign language aptitude and experience of study abroad impact CSL learners' performance in Chinese. Meta-linguistic awareness, e.g. phonological awareness and phonetic radical awareness and literacy skills, e.g. hanzi reading and writing, furthermore, it examines the contribution of meta-linguistic awareness to literacy skills. The book also discusses the theoretical implications for understanding the significance of phonological skills for the development of literacy skills and the pedagogical considerations for designing instructional activities for pinyin and hanzi in the CSL classroom. This book is intended for researchers, graduate students and practitioners interested in CSL teaching and learning.

pronunciation and you'll be comfortable meeting most social demands and limited job requirements. One hour of recorded cultural notes are included at the end of lesson 30. These notes are designed to provide you with some insight into Chinese culture. A notes booklet is also included with your download. The Pimsleur method: we make no secret of what makes this powerful method work so well. Paul Pimsleur spent his career researching and perfecting the precise elements anyone can use to learn a language quickly and easily. Here are a few of his secrets: the principle of anticipation in the nanosecond between a cue and your response; your brain has to work to come up with the right word; having to do this boosts retention and cements the word in your mind. Core vocabulary words, phrases, and sentences are selected for their usefulness in everyday conversation. We don't overwhelm you with too much but steadily increase your ability with every lesson. Graduated interval recall reminders of new words and structures come up at the exact interval for maximum retention and storage into your long-term memory. Organic learning: you work on multiple aspects of the language simultaneously. We integrate grammar, vocabulary, rhythm, melody, and intonation into every lesson, which allows you to experience the language as a living, expressive form of human culture. Learning in context: research has shown that learning new words in context dramatically accelerates your ability to remember. Every scene in every Pimsleur lesson is set inside a conversation between two people. There are no drills and no memorization necessary for success. Active participation: the Pimsleur method. Active learner participation. Success. This method works with every language and every learner who follows it. You gain the power to recall and use what you know and to add new words easily, exactly as you do in English. The Mandarin Chinese language: over one billion people speak Chinese. The two most common dialects are Mandarin and Cantonese. They are not mutually intelligible. Mandarin is the official language in mainland China, Taiwan, and Singapore. The Mandarin dialect is used in most Chinese schools and in most TV programs, movies, and radio stations throughout the country. Even in Guangzhou (formerly Canton), where people speak Cantonese in their daily lives, Mandarin is one of the six official languages of the United Nations. Tech talk: CDs are formatted for playing in all CD players, including car players, and users can copy files for use in iTunes or Windows Media Player.
