this volume traces the evolution of the field of law and economics from its european roots to its neoclassical chicagoan period to its current identity as a more fluid transatlantic discipline paying special attention to the work of german economist juergen backhaus who was instrumental in the reintroduction of the european perspective to the field this book analyzes this gradual shift in the law and economics debate and provides a state of the art of the literature currently being produced by the field s most active scholars beginning with a discussion of the history of the field and backhaus role in its development the volume provides a survey of issues central to the current debate such as legal processes in both europe and the u s constitutional political economy regulatory law and the ongoing evolution of the european union the importance of this volume is two fold as it firmly grounds the discipline in history while establishing a future research agenda this book will be of use to researchers studying law and economics as well as those interested in institutional analysis this book is about trying to answer questions these questions were well introduced by prof margaret hall in the opening of her chapter in this book the fundamental idea of law and aging as a discrete category of legal principle and theory is controversial how and why are older adults or seniors or elders the very terminology is controversial and fraught with difficulties a discrete and distinct group for whom special legal thought and treatment is justified for some a category of law and aging is inherently paternalistic suggesting that older persons are like children especially in need of the protection of the law in this sense the argument continues the category itself internalizes ageist presumptions about older adults and is therefore inherently flawed and even harmful if certain older adults are because of physical or mental infirmities genuinely in need of an enhanced level of legal protection this entitlement should be conceptualized in terms of their disability older adults are not a distinct group but an arbitrarily delineated demographic category which contains within it any number of groups that are legitimately distinct for the purposes of legal theory the disabled women persons of colour aboriginal persons rich and poor etc indeed the artificial category of older adults may be seen as obfuscating submerging these more meaningful distinctions
