giovanni cecchetti s nomad diary begins with the great valley a superb long poem which shows the course of the planet framing the course of humankind and civilization

following poems feature mesmerizing crocodiles crazy cypresses giant mosquitoes the pollen of jazz of new orleans drunken islands and an enchanted teenager in the sea a short collection of elegant epigrams rounds out the volume the west and southwest were dear to cecchetti and appear throughout the book his essay on writing poetry in a foreign land has been translated here by raymond petrillo george todd a teacher of and writer on photography selects 80 of his own colour images and describes the story behind each of them in this book the subjects vary from the purely abstract to still life architectural and landscape photographs and the locations range from italy and greece to the southern united states in each case the author describes how the image was created from the original conception of the picture through the choice of viewpoint and composition to the final selection of the chosen exposure for printing what all the images have in common is that they triumphantly demonstrate that colour can in and of itself be a compositional tool and that the use of strongly contrasting forms and shadows need not be confined to classic black and white photography on the contrary as this book shows colour can be just as much a fine art form as monochrome and indeed that the bold and inventive use of the colour medium can give the photographer work a valuable extra dimension
