this is a book about pastoral priorities and parochial spirituality mr thornton argues that considerations of biblical and philosophical theology history and psychology alike demand that pastoral work should be based on that remnant of faithful souls often very few in number to be found in any parish and that their training and direction is of very much greater importance than devising schemes to interest the multitude he argues forcefully against the parochial activity which aims at adding numbers of individuals to the church by methods of recruitment this he holds to be theologically unsound and ascetically ineffective his faith is that god will add to the church such as are being saved when there is at the heart of the parish this remnant living by rule a center of adoration and charity the rightful heir he contends of medieval monastic order there is probably no other modern work which attempts such a serious and thorough examination of the type of spirituality to which christians can aspire in the world today this much needed book fully integrates principles of pastoral care leadership and theology to restore to ministers a clearly defined pastoral identity moving from a critique of inadequate models for ministry from community organizer to t v evangelist oden develops a more classical model rich in its references to the past and compatible both with christian faith and theology through the ages and with current needs reconciling classical tradition with practice pastoral theology will be a standard resource and reference in the field oden distills the best ideas of the two millennia of ecumenical christian thinking concerning what pastors are and do pastoral theology provides the foundational knowledge of the pastoral office requisite to the practice of ministry it will be of interest to persons preparing for ordination in its review of key issues at the same time pastoral theology will appeal to all those who have considered entering the ministry those who want to know more about what clergy do and why and those ministers who want to review their ongoing work in the light of a systematic reflection on the pastoral gifts and tasks in pastoral care in the classical tradition andrew purves argued that pastoral care and theology has long ignored scripture and christian doctrine and pastoral practice has become secularized in both method and goal the fiefdom of psychology and the social sciences he builds further on this idea here presenting a christological basis for ministry and pastoral theology driven by the desire to be successful pastors are tempted to judge their ministries by the worldly standards of power prestige privilege and prosperity in contrast j stephen yuille reorients our understanding of pastoral ministry by presenting a standard of excellence measured by faithfulness humility and submission to god even when the results look unsuccessful in the eyes of the world drawing from the puritan minister george swinnock yuille expands on a list of sixteen heartfelt desires that swinnock expressed for his own pastoral ministry yuille s reflections on these timeless priorities are full of biblical insights and pastoral wisdom the book ends with swinnock s farewell sermon to his congregation which serves as an encouraging example for all pastors who desire to love their people in christ this book is a valuable guide for pastors as they seek to labor and love in the service of christ in today s world the challenge of care is how to respond to people s emotional as well as their economic circumstances how can we be respectful of the individual and the community in ways that affirm both how are we to live respectfully with difference and ambiguity where shall we find our models of life and care from the dominant western or else some kind of global perspective that includes indigenous knowledge in our theologies do we continue to privilege the study of abstract conceptual theory or do we give place to pragmatic aesthetic and nonverbal forms in the face of increasing extremism terrorism and violence is it possible to make a sensible choice between radical relativism and absolute essentialism are we to be drawn towards the various expressions of religion or to the opportunities and ambiguities of spirituality as it is called upon in many societies today with the scarce resources available or allocated to health care in many national budgets across the world shall we give greater attention to the eradication of disease through increasingly advanced technologies and therapeutic strategies or to the promotion of health through primary health care and public health education pastoral theology in an intercultural world presents practical theological resources for the broad vision deep passion and thoughtful action needed for pastoral care in the twenty first century james fowler s work as the originator of faith development research his use of the theories of jean piaget and erik erikson for theology has been widely acclaimed for its profound impact on the field of religious education and for its promise for other fields this critical analysis of the relationship between theology and pastoral care considers the difference that other faith traditions make to the understanding of the pastoral focusing on pastoral leadership within local churches or groups of churches derek tidball provides a comprehensive survey of the variety of ministry models and patterns found in the new testament with applications for today s ministry
