in the early 1300s dante alighieri set out to write the three volumes which make the up the divine comedy purgatorio is the second volume in this set and opens with dante the poet picturing dante the pilgrim coming out of the pit of hell similar to the inferno 34 cantos this volume is divided into 33 cantos written in tercets groups of 3 lines the english prose is arranged in tercets to facilitate easy correspondence to the verse form of the italian on the facing page enabling the reader to follow both languages line by line in an effort to capture the peculiarities of dante s original language this translation strives toward the literal and sheds new light on the shape of the poem again the text of purgatorio follows petrocchi s la commedia secondo l antica vulgata but the editor has departed from petrocchi s readings in a number of cases somewhat larger than in the previous inferno not without consideration of recent critical readings of the comedy by scholars such as lanza 1995 1997 and sanguineti 2001 as before petrocchi s punctuation has been lightened and american norms have been followed however without any pretensions to being critical the text presented here is eclectic and being not persuaded of the exclusive authority of any manuscript the editor has felt free to adopt readings from various branches of the stemma one major addition to this second volume is in the notes where is found the intercantica a section for each canto that discusses its relation to the inferno and which will make it easier for the reader to relate the different parts of the comedy as a whole is there evidence for the existence of god defined as the transcendent entity responsible for all material existence the author believes that there is albeit such evidence is not necessarily proof for everyone in this two part study wayne talbot firstly presents the evidence that has convinced him that god is the most plausible explanation with a limited but sufficient understanding of the nature of existence in terms of energy matter space and time he demonstrates his primary axiom that nothing can explain itself the natural corollary of this is that scientists will never be able to explain the origins of material existence by examining the material itself an explanation of origins must always lie outside the entity being examined this is why scientists cannot explain the origin of the proposed singularity and why some scientists seek an alternative to the big bang model of our universe even resorting to logical absurdities such as the universe creating itself out of nothing while in the presence of something with the reality of god being his presupposition for what follows the author examines the case for monotheistic religions versus polytheistic concluding that the latter are antithetical to a god who is one left with a choice between judaism christianity and islam he concludes that if god has communicated his guidance for living to any it is most likely judaism as recorded in the hebrew scriptures the question becomes which parts of those scriptures were intended for the children of israel alone and which were for all people for all time researching ever deeper he reveals what he has come to believe about how god wants us to relate to him and the specific guidance that should be reworded for contemporary times the spirit of torah is so much more than the mere words
