in the philosophy of spinoza benedictus de spinoza presents a groundbreaking exploration of metaphysics ethics and epistemology using a rationalist approach spinoza meticulously constructs his philosophical system through a geometric method that seeks clarity and precision engaging deeply with the works of descartes and the emergent scientific thought of the 17th century he challenges traditional notions of god nature and human freedom his radical perspectives invite readers to reconsider the interconnectedness of existence and the essence of reality employing an intricate logical structure that has left an indelible mark on western philosophy benedictus de spinoza a dutch philosopher of portuguese jewish descent profoundly influenced the enlightenment and the development of modern thought his experiences of social alienation stemming from his excommunication from the jewish community in amsterdam shaped his commitment to intellectual freedom and ethics grounded in reason the historical context of the period marked by religious strife and emerging scientific inquiry fueled his exploration of a holistic worldview where god and nature are indivisible underpinning his philosophical inquiries for readers seeking to engage with foundational ideas in philosophy the philosophy of spinoza is an essential text that invites contemplation on the nature of existence and our place within it spinoza's ambitious project encourages readers to delve into the profound implications of his rationalist framework making it a timeless and necessary read for anyone interested in the roots of modern philosophical thought in this remarkable work gilles deleuze the renowned french philosopher reflects on one of the thinkers of the past who most influenced his own sweeping reconfiguration of the tasks of philosophy for deleuze spinoza along with nietzsche and lucretius conceived of philosophy as an enterprise of liberation and radical demystification he locates in spinoza a set of affects a kinetic determination an impulse and makes spinoza into an encounter a passion expressionism in philosophy was the culmination of a series of monographic studies by deleuze on hume bergson nietzsche proust kant and sacher masoch and prepared the transition from these abstract treatments of historical schemes of experience to the nomadology of capitalism and schizophrenia anti oedipus and a thousand plateaus co authored with félix guattari thus expressionism in philosophy is both a pivotal reading of spinoza's work and a crucial text within the development of deleuze's thought spinoza's thought placed in its historical and philosophical context ideal for students new to his work

ethics demonstrated in geometrical order latin ethica ordine geometrico demonstrata usually known as the ethics is a philosophical treatise written by benedict de spinoza it was written between 1664 and 1665 and was first published in 1677 the book is perhaps the most ambitious attempt to apply the method of euclid in philosophy spinoza puts forward a small number of definitions and axioms from which he attempts to derive hundreds of propositions and corollaries such as when the mind imagines its own lack of power it is saddened by it a free man thinks of nothing less than of death and the human mind cannot be absolutely destroyed with the body but something of it remains which is eternal the first part of the ethics addresses the relationship between god and the universe tradition held that god exists outside of the universe created it for a reason and could have created a different universe if he so chose spinoza denies each point according to spinoza god is the natural world as with many of spinoza's claims what this means is a matter of dispute spinoza claims that the things that make up the universe including human beings are god's modes this means that we and everything else are in some sense dependent upon god the nature of this dependence is disputed some scholars say that the modes are properties of god in the traditional sense others say that modes are effects of god either way the modes are also logically dependent on god's essence in this sense everything that happens follows from the nature of god just like how as spinoza puts it it follows from the nature of a triangle that its angles are equal to two right angles since god had to exist with the nature he happens to have nothing that has happened could have been avoided and if a particular fate for a particular mode is fixed by god there is no escaping it or as spinoza puts it a thing which has been determined by god to produce an effect cannot render itself undetermined god's creation of the universe is not a decision much less one motivated by a purpose the second part of the ethics focuses on the human mind and body spinoza attacks several cartesian positions that the mind and body are distinct substances that can affect one another that we know our minds better than we know our bodies that our senses may be trusted that despite being created by god we can make mistakes namely when we affirm of our own free will an idea that is not clear and distinct
