modernist or postmodernist standards and explores how Warner's short stories shift to off-centre positions side-stepping normativity further outlines the way in which Warner constantly challenges the categories we apply to classify our surroundings and analyses how Warner succeeds in creating queer that is non-heteronormative as well as strange and peculiar stories without explicitly opposing the so-called norms of her time. In this side-stepping normativity joins a vibrant conversation in queer studies which revolves around the question how critics can approach literary texts from a non-antagonistic position rather than focussing on the role of the critic. However, this thesis shows that Warner's texts have long achieved what queer theorists seek to achieve on an analytical level.
