arguably the world's all time greatest motorcycle road racing champion valentino rossi is without a doubt the best and the best loved in modern times in what if i had never tried it he tells his remarkable story for the first time and as might be expected the story he tells is fast paced full of surprises action packed and always entertaining the son of 1970s racer graziano rossi whose number 46 he wears when racing valentino was born in urbino italy in 1979 here he relates how he started racing as a teenager first with karts and minimotos minibikes he then traces his rapid and seemingly inexorable progress from the 125 class to the 250 class to the 500s and finally on to 990 cc four stroke now known as motogp to become a seven time world champion in grand prix racing by the time he was twenty six as he describes starting his career as a clownish upstart only to emerge as the doctor so famed for his precision rossi's crowd pleasing character comes through in abundance one moment a charismatic jokester the next an insightful analyst he is finally the single minded focused strategic racer with split second skills the rest of us can only dream of giving us a glimpse of how one man has forever changed the face of motorcycle road racing valentino rossi is the greatest living motorcyclist his legions of fans adore him over 4 000 turned up to see him in leicester square last march he has fought through the 125 and 250 class groups to win the world championships five times and has been ranked in the top three places at the world championships for the last nine years he is currently the motogp world champion and has won on a honda bike considered the best and most recently on a yamaha considered the worst he is arguably the greatest racer ever and certainly the most entertaining his post race antics and cheeky personality have won him as many fans as his on track prowess he is the kind of star who only comes along once in a while a muhammad ali or pele hugely talented massively driven yet also charismatic unnervingly rebellious and totally endearing a twentieth century version of the hell raisers of old he just seems to win more because he s still enjoying himself so much a lyrical memoir by one of the major figures of postmodernist architecture with drawings of architectural projects prepared especially for the book this revealing memoir by aldo rossi 1937 1997 one of the most visible and controversial figures ever on the international architecture scene intermingles discussions of rossi s architectural projects including the major literary and artistic influences on his work with his personal history drawn from notebooks rossi kept beginning in 1971 these ruminations and reflections range from his obsession with theater to his concept of architecture as ritual an exceptional read motor cycle news stuart barker is to writing what valentino rossi is to riding a must read for all bike nuts daily mirror at high speed everything becomes more difficult and more beautiful when you re racing at 180mph the semi bends become bends the little holes become big holes everything becomes extreme and bigger and then it becomes beautiful valentino rossi is an icon the most successful and most loved motorcycle racer of all time he has transcended motogp to become a symbol of courage risk and daring to race for twenty three years at the very highest level of the world s most dangerous sport is unprecedented but then there has never been a motorcycle racer like valentino rossi he is a modern day gladiator a man who still risks his life every time he throws a leg over a motorcycle yet for all his two wheel talents it is rossi s endearing character that has seen him transcend the sport his popularity is phenomenal for rossi every race is a home race he turns motogp grandstands across the world a sea of yellow his traditional lucky colour in more than two decades of grand prix racing rossi has seen it all the deaths of rivals and friends the glory of his unprecedented success serious injuries fabulous wealth the greatest battles ever seen on two wheels the infamous on and off track clashes with his fiercest rivals using exclusive new interviews with those who have been part of rossi s story from start to finish critically acclaimed and bestselling motorsport author stuart barker has produced the most in depth book ever written about the italian superstar a tale of speed love and loss told in full for the very first time in all its adrenalin charged high octane glory the fourth edition of this best selling paperback includes a complete new chapter and photographs to cover the 2005 season and rossi's fifth consecutive world championship title after quitting the dominant honda factory at the end of 2003 for the unfancied yamaha outfit rossi proved that he could still quell his motogp opposition beating off the honda hordes the popular italian left his former bosses with seriously red faces rossi's achievements on the yamaha have stunned even the sport's most cynical observers convincing them that he's the greatest bike rider ever from the day he was born into a racing family on february 16 1979 rossi was destined for racing greatness rossi started his international racing career in 1996 riding for aprilia in the 125cc class and won his first world championship the following year rossi's career would see him go on to win nine grand prix world championships score 87 wins in 500cc motogp and many more accolades this visual biography covers this incredible racer's journey his victories rivalries and transitions from brand to brand see his incredible battles against the likes of max biaggi sete gibernau and dani pedersola and why they inspired three films faster fastest hitting the apex get to know rossi's incredible charm and wit and why he has achieved rock star status among racing fans today there are more tools for communication than ever before yet very little in the way of reflection on how these are being used and even less on what exactly is being conveyed this issue of ad looks at how architecture is communicated from a cultural perspective do the identities of practices or their business driven branding and promotional efforts resonate with the critical acclaim many architects seek has slick image led media coverage sold the profession short how is it possible to convey the less visual and haptic qualities of architecture can architects be more creative in their communication efforts making these joyous on their own terms as le corbusier did so memorably is there really a need to succumb to the world of corporate marketing processes and managerial business jargon the issue explores notions of editing and curating work in an age of data deluge and discusses social media as a genuinely alternative space for communication rather than for just repurposing and regurgitating information relayed the identity of the architect encourages the promotion of practices as an integral extension of the very culture they hope to engender through their work contributors stephen bayley caroline cole adam nathaniel furman gabor gallov jonathan glancey justine harvey owen hopkins crispin kelly jay merrick robin monotti juhani pallasmaa vicky richardson jenny sabin and austin williams featured architects ian ritchie big mvrdiv if do and zaha hadid architects
